Production companies are constantly on the lookout for...

Existing car parks/
hard standing

Film and TV crews need parking for their technical trucks or crew vehicles.

Office space

Crews need office space for their production base or to film scenes that are based in an office.

Pubs, shops, entertainment venues, shopping centres, industrial spaces

Productions have a wide range of requirements and your property could be exactly what they require. For example, suitable properties can be used as filming locations, green rooms, for hair and makeup, catering, holding space for extras or for storing equipment.

Spaces that are available during weekdays are highly sought after

Benefits of hiring your location through us...

- Insurance/T&Cs
- Damage deposit and public liability insurance is mandatory. We also can stipulate specific terms and conditions for your location
- Our relationships with local authorities and the screen industry
- We have long-established relationships with local authorities as well as with the film and TV industry
- Most large-scale productions come to us for advice and we are a trusted partner of location managers searching for locations
- Vetting of applications from production companies
- As your exclusive agent we handle all enquiries from production companies, freeing your time. We vet all enquiries and agree a brief for each shoot. We will only schedule a shoot once we are confident the production team will adhere to the brief.
- Experience of managing properties
- We collect money up front to protect the revenue for each booking.
- We provide a detailed monthly or quarterly revenue report generated from our secure online system.
- Resident/community engagement is a key part of our process and ensures neighbours remain on-side.
- We have a 24/7 emergency line for handling any issues arising during out of hours shoots.
- Promotion of your property. We are often the first port of call for film and TV location managers who are in search of locations and assets for filming. Our pivotal position in London's film and TV industry means we are able to market your property to a highly targeted audience.
- We actively market your property direct to filmmakers and photographers using our database of industry contacts, website, social media channels and through our library of locations hosted by locationshub.com
